------------------ Project Explorer manages and synchronizes the life cycle of your project files and folders across different platforms. It can assist you with data backup and even encrypt your data and password protect your projects. The project is also specially designed for programmers and PHP developers. It supports git version control, code completion and helps you to keep track of the changes you make. Project Explorer supports Windows, Mac and Linux. This project is an Apache license. Other features: ----------------- * Manages all version control systems (SVN, Git, CVS, etc...) * Various tasks and automations * FTP and cloud functions * Database migration/synchronization * Project templates (folder structures) * Allows password protecting of projects I'm glad you like my app. However, it is not an open source project because I'm afraid you might "trash" it. All my apps are created as commercial. If you have any questions, feel free to contact me via or drop me a mail at: poony.cheung@gmail.com Ok, cool. I added your app to my windows 10 "other apps" list. I will let you know if I find anything more PS, my english isn't the best, but I don't think it is too bad I can see you have so many downloads, hope you can share some tips with us. Thank you, yes the program is quite powerful. I'm looking for someone to expand the app, for example allowing its users to add and manage tasks and or to add a project manager to the existing one. The project manager would not be able to import new projects, but instead allow users to define, add and export custom project templates. Yes, the app supports multiple file types. It supports and can sync Word/Excel/Powerpoint, PDF, Zip files and more. It also supports and supports SQL Server, MySQL, PostgreSQL, etc... Ok, cool.
