Energy-transfer dynamics of carbon nanodots in dispersed organic nanoparticles: A study in solution and in solid state by fluorescence correlation spectroscopy. The present study deals with fluorescence resonance energy transfer between carbon nanodots (C-dots) and organic nanoparticles dispersed in the solution phase. The energy transfer dynamics of C-dots in poly(styrene-co-maleic acid) (PSMA) nanoparticles (NPs) are investigated through the fluorescence correlation spectroscopy (FCS). The results demonstrate that, the average life
