The amp cover is also warped or missing so a little force will be needed to remove it. Once these problems are solved, the unit will work, if it does not fill with water when it is repressed, which it does on mine when forgotten for a few days, is a sure sign it is not in use. the picture shows the proper size and type of bottle to start with but it will only do so much, the complete set will have to be procured. I would add, in due time, it is not the time to get the first bottle. As I do not want to void the warranty on a new unit, for taking another bottle will have to be arranged, but it's not hard and will not invalidate the warranty. But I would expect that the first 5 bottles should be free with the unit. The first one will not be free. I 82138339de
