What's New in the Video Thumbnail Creator?

1.Create Thumbnails for YouTube Videos 2.Choose a video or add video from your computer and save as an image file. 3.Select an image file, length or percentage from the video or drag and drop your video from a folder 4.Export the video thumbnail or save as a text file. 5.Search for, add and delete videos in a list. 6.Generate thumbnails for all videos in the list or for each video separately. 7.Set the size and output format of each thumbnail. 8.Apply a different thumbnail to each video. 9.Show thumbnails in grid view. 10.Apply a different image to each thumbnail. 11.Create thumbnails for any YouTube video. Many times, visitors access certain YouTube videos because they like their thumbnails or are intrigued by them. In other words, if you take the time and find an interesting thumbnail for your YouTube content, you are bound to gain not only visitors, but also increased visibility. And this is where Video Thumbnail Creator can come in handy, even if you have little to no expert skills. User-friendly interface The GUI of this application is intuitive and straightforward, and you can easily add the videos you want to process. You can drag and drop them onto the main window, or you can manually browse to the location of each clip. The supported formats are AVI, MP4, MPEG, MOV, MKV, FLV, WMV, 3GP, VOB, SWF, QT, RM, WebM, OGV, TS, M2TS and so on. Once you have settled on the list of videos, you can export it to TXT for later use. Similarly, you can import videos from lists stored in TXT, CVS or Excel files. Manually select the video thumbnail The next step is the most important one - you get to choose a thumbnail for your video. The first option is to select an image from your PC and set it as a thumbnail, while the second one allows you to use a slider and find the most relevant frame from your video. The third option allows you to enter the duration percentage and use the resulting image as a thumbnail. Additionally, you can apply the same thumbnail to all the clips in your list, or you can set a different one for each file. Conclusion All in all, Video Thumbnail Creator is a hassle-free solution for quickly adding thumbnails for your YouTube videos.
