Glasson Park, New South Wales Glasson Park is an inner city suburb of Sydney, in the state of New South Wales, Australia. Glasson Park is located 10 kilometres west of the Sydney central business district, in the local government area of the City of Sydney. The suburb is part of the Eastern Suburbs region. Glasson Park lies on the corner of the Old Millers Road and Rosebank Avenue. The main features of the suburb include a large park, a shopping centre, two schools (Sacred Heart College and Christian Brothers College, New York) and a multi-purpose sports and recreation centre. History Glasson Park was one of the first suburbs in the Eastern Suburbs of Sydney to be developed. The first houses were built in 1887. Glasson Park is one of Sydney's oldest suburbs. In 1892, the area was transformed from a farming community to a residential suburb when development began to happen in the adjoining suburb of Rosebank. The first houses were built in 1887. Other major streets in the vicinity include Davis Street, Little Millers Road, Old Millers Road, Grange Road and Martindale Road. Transport Glasson Park is well served by public transport. The area is serviced by bus lines operated by Transit Systems Sydney, with numerous bus stops provided at Old Millers Road, Rosebank Avenue, Adams Avenue, Lewisham Road and Grange Road. Numerous tram stops are also provided nearby at Watson, and Junction Avenues, with a proposed route via Lewisham Road and Old Millers Road also in the planning stages. Commercial areas The suburb is served by a large number of small shops and restaurants, which are clustered around the shopping centre at the east end of Old Millers Road and Rosebank Avenue, along with a small number of larger businesses. Many of the shopping centres and large retail stores are located in neighbouring neighbouring suburbs of Rosehill, St Marys and Camperdown. Commercial precincts The Eastern Suburbs and Northern Suburbs Commercial Centre is located in the eastern end of Glasson Park. The Glasson Park Shopping Centre is located in the centre of the suburb and consists of a large shopping centre. As well as being the largest outdoor shopping mall in Sydney, it is also the most expensive
