This is the person who is not part of your family, not in your house, not in your neighborhood, not from your hometown. In fact they are most likely not even from your country. For this post I have chosen to use the example of Justin Bieber, who has fans (outside the family) all over the world and they all want to meet him. First you would need to get Bieber's contact information and give them a knock on the door. If you don't like the sound of that then Skype or Google Hangouts might be a better option. However, the main thing you would need to know is whether these fans are willing to pay for the meet. If they say "yes", you will have to consider the money you will need to pay Bieber to go to your town and be your date. Of course, this depends on the size of your town. If the fans say "no", you will not be able to have that meet anyway. Anyways, that's my opinion on how to get Justin Bieber to your town. The present invention generally relates to a switching circuit for controlling a servo system of a mechanism, and more particularly relates to a switching circuit for controlling a servo system of a mechanism used for a vehicle such as a four-wheel drive vehicle or a front-wheel drive and four-wheel drive vehicle which allows switching between two-wheel drive and four-wheel drive at the time of starting up of the vehicle. With regard to a servo system of a type of mechanism used for a vehicle such as a four-wheel drive vehicle, a front-wheel drive and four-wheel drive, switching between two-wheel drive and four-wheel drive is not carried out and only two-wheel drive is carried out in the conventional switchover circuit disclosed in Japanese Unexamined Patent Application Publication No. 2003-511459. In the conventional switchover circuit, there is no limit to two-wheel drive and four-wheel drive, but switching is
