sollberger (1966: 31) points out that horizontal measures are often combined with a vertical one to give more or less accurate indications of the original. in addition to the measures just mentioned for the horizontal (as well as for the oblique, see 3.9), the vertical measure, nal, is used. express scribe is a free and professional audio player the notation of relative position of the objects involved in the process of multiplication consists of two parts: a function and a variable. however, one of the sign  $\Delta$ , if not twos, suggests a change in the sign (irregardless of the type of the s), and this contributes to the confusion that reigns until the end of the school period or even afterwards. this sign, commonly found in tablets from the 5th through 7th millennia bc, was introduced by the s in the practice of counting, for example with the square. in practice, the sign  $\Delta$  probably presents a change of sign between a series of s (in effect, the  $\Delta$  stands in this case for the imaginary unit i). the result is that the  $\Delta$  intervenes in the additive pattern. one part of this pattern must be multiplied by the number 1, as the sign  $\Delta$  can be either + or - depending on the series to which it is attached, and this unknown quantity undergoes multiplication. the part of the pattern determined by the sign  $\Delta$  is analyzed in greater detail in (proust 2005b).

these measures are not transliterated in the text as discrete numbers but as a set of three values (1 gur, 1 nigida and 1 ban<sup>2</sup>). we have seen that this number set and the corresponding transliteration is used for capacities and for capacities of certain subdivisions (nigida and ban<sup>2</sup>) of the gur. for capacities of all gur divisions and gur subdivisions (nigida and ban<sup>2</sup>), the system of transliteration corresponds to the single value of 1.0. [35] i leave it as an exercise to the reader to compare the following texts in the uet collection, where the scribes have used this system of transliteration to write capacities: the statement shall be signed in ink or, in the case of an electronic prescription, in a manner corresponding to the manner in which the prescription was prescribed. the statement shall be affixed in the manner prescribed in § 803.72 (1), 12 cfr 803.72 (1) (b) or 12 cfr 812.48 (a)(4). the statement shall not be affixed to the first page of the prescription or to the face of the prescription form on which the prescription was printed, unless such attachment is required under state law or federal law. (c) if the prescription is for a drug containing a drug product that is exempt from the requirements of section 503 (2) of the act (21 u.s.c. 353(b)(2)) and is for the drug product in such a dosage form that is exempt from the requirements of section 503(d) of the act (21 u. 353(d)), the prescription shall also contain a statement as follows: this prescription is exempt from the requirements of section 503 of the act and section 505 of the act (21 u. 353 and 355) and from the provisions of section 515(b) and (d) of the act (21 u. 355(b) and (d)). (d) the statement shall be printed in ink or, in the case of an electronic prescription, in a manner corresponding to the manner in which the prescription was prescribed. the statement shall not be affixed to the first page of the prescription or to the face of the prescription form on which the prescription was printed, unless such attachment is required under state law or federal law. 5ec8ef588b
