We get a lot of questions about this at Codesoft, and do not want you to be putting together a receipt and leave to wonder about a problem with a driver because they have never encountered this before. We just want to eliminate those types of problems from occurring by letting you know how to make it work properly. Because many new users do not know of this issue with the codesoft driver, we would like to suggest to you to install the latest drivers from our website, at our website, then our software will see it as a fresh install, and it will work great right from the get go. Click next, and select the Add Driver. Then select the Open, and follow the steps. Then when you are finished you should then see in the software that it detects the new driver, then all your HP drivers are gone and replaced by the new one. If for some reason you cannot get the new driver, then also try it is installed as a bad USB driver, so make sure you add it to your USB as a new driver, it is actually a good thing for you, because it will prevent the device from going through the driver rollback process that the printer driver sometimes does. Like I said many times before for a lot of people this is one of the most frustrating issues they encounter with printer drivers. If you need to print from any of your other software, just make sure your software is installed properly on the computer, and you have the exact printer driver, if you are using a CD, USB, or some other form of printing, then you need to make absolutely sure that your software is setup properly and you have the correct printer driver on there, then all should work just fine. You cannot just throw a CD and say this is it for my printer because every piece of software needs a different driver, and we cannot have people doing this.
